Week in Stats

Can you tell your pie charts from your bar graphs? Do you know how to track changes with a single line? Put your abilities to the test by analyzing the graph or chart based on the Week in Rap news and answering the questions below.

- 1 What region had an adult literacy rate of 61%?
- 2 What was the primary school net enrollment of Eastern and Southern Africa?
- 3 How far below the world average was the adult literacy rate in the least developed countries?
- 4 UNICEF, or the United Nations Children's Fund, reported these statistics from 2009-2013. However, North America and Western Europe were absent from the geographical groupings. Why do you think that is? What would you predict the primary school net enrollment rate was for the United States?
- 5 The fourth UN sustainable development goal is to increase education for people across the world. What could the UN do to increase the adult literacy rate and the primary school net enrollment rate?
